

Division 39 Spring Meeting in Santa Fe, New Mexico

Division 39 (APA Division of Psychoanalysis) 32nd Annual Spring Meeting
Santa Fe, New Mexico April 18 – 22, 2012

Since Freud set out to understand the unconscious in mental life, psychoanalysis has been part of the leading edge of creativity in human experience. What better to place to explore this theme than historic Santa Fe, the 3rd largest art market in the U.S.? There are a variety of pre-conference master classes being offered on Wednesday, April 18th, for an additional fee. The main conference begins Thursday morning, April 19th and ends at noon on Sunday, April 22nd, with continuing education offered for most panels. The keynote speakers are Kenneth Kosik, MD (“How the Brain Tells Our Story”) and Carlo Strenger, PhD (“The Global Creative Class: Excitement and Discontent”). Invited panelists include Ricardo Ainslie, PhD, Lewis Aron, PhD, Mark Blechner, PhD, Marilyn Charles, PhD, James Fosshage, PhD, Robert Galatzer-Levy, MD, Stephen Hartman, PhD, Christine Kieffer, PhD, Frank Lachman, PhD, Kimberlyn Leary, PhD, Malcolm Slavin, PhD, Stuart Twemlow, MD, and Polly Young-Eisendrath, PhD. Discounted registration fees are available for graduate students and institute candidates. Early bird registration fees end February 3, 2012. For additional information and to register online, go to HYPERLINK "http://www.division39.org" www.division39.org.

ATTENTION STUDENT MEMBERS

ASPP wants to encourage our student members to become more involved in our society and to continue participation in Division 39, our parent organization. To further that end we are now accepting student applications for a Scholarship to attend the Div 39 Spring meeting in Santa Fe, NM, April 18-22, 2012.

If you have been a member for 2 years and want to attend please submit a curriculum vita of study, work you are doing, and a cover letter explaining why you want to attend the Division 39 annual conference. Please send this to Mary Moore : marliz_moore@sbdglobal.net. The board will consider the applications and make a decision by 2-7-12.

We look forward to reviewing your applications!